Developing General English Proficiency through Reading: A Course for University Students

نویسندگان: دکتر زهرا فاخر عجب‌شیر؛ فاطمه پناهی‌فر

“Developing General English Proficiency through Reading: A Course for University Students” focuses on the teaching of English as a foreign language to students at universities and institutions as well as general readers. It assumes a pre-intermediate previous knowledge of English. The book is authored with pre-specified objectives in order to improve certain language skills, including reading comprehension, writing, vocabulary, and grammar. Considering that a majority of the books on general English address limited aspects of second language skills, mainly reading comprehension, this volume aims to integrate different linguistic aspects.
